

Terms of Use

Updated April 3, 2009

Introduction; Consent to Terms

Please read these Terms of Use before using the World Wide Web site of NPR Listens, currently located at the www.nprlistens.org domain and subdomains, or any features of this site (collectively the "Site"). National Public Radio, Inc. ("NPR") is making the Site available to you under these Terms of Use. By using the Site in any way, including merely browsing, you agree to be bound by the Terms of Use. If you do not agree to be bound by the Terms of Use, please exit the Site. NPR reserves the right, in its discretion, to modify, add, or delete portions of the Terms of Use at any time without notice to you by posting updated Terms of Use on the Site. Please check the Terms of Use frequently for updates. Any modifications, additions, or deletions shall be effective immediately on posting of updated Terms of Use. Your continued use of the Site following the posting of updated Terms of Use will mean that you agree to those changes.

Additional terms and conditions — such as, for example, the rules of any sweepstakes or contests available on or through the Site — may apply to your use of particular areas of the Site. NPR will post any additional terms and conditions on the Site. If there is any conflict between those additional terms and conditions and these Terms of Use, the additional terms and conditions will take precedence over these Terms of Use.

Eligibility to Register for and Use the Site

Except for its home page, the Site is accessible only to registered users. Registration for the Site is open only to individuals eighteen years of age and older. If you do not qualify, please do not use the Site. NPR may refuse access to the Site to anyone at any time, in its sole discretion. Registration is limited to one per individual.

Proprietary Rights

The contents of this Site are protected by United States and international copyright laws. You may not reproduce, distribute, transmit, display, prepare derivative works of, or perform any copyrighted material on the Site without the prior written consent of NPR, except as provided in the next sentence. You may copy and print a limited amount of content for your personal, noncommercial use only, provided that you include all copyright and other notices contained in the content and that you do not modify the content.

National Public Radio®, NPR®, and NPR program names are service marks of either NPR or the producers of the programs. All rights reserved. You may not use any NPR service marks, logos, or graphics without NPR's prior written consent.

Framing

NPR does not allow framing of the Site.

Links to the Site

You may not link to restricted areas of the Site (nonpublic areas accessible only to registered users). Linking is permitted to the Site's home page; however, NPR is a noncommercial organization committed to the highest journalistic ethics and standards and to independent, noncommercial journalism, in both fact and appearance. Therefore, the linking should not (a) suggest that NPR promotes or endorses any third party's causes, ideas, Web sites, products, or services, or (b) use NPR content for inappropriate commercial purposes. We reserve the right to withdraw permission for any link.

Links to Third-Party Web Sites

This Site may include links to Web sites maintained by third parties, over which NPR has no control. NPR does not endorse the content, operators, products, or services of such sites, and NPR is not responsible or liable for the content, operators, availability, accuracy, quality, advertising, products, services, or other materials on or available from such sites. NPR shall not be responsible or liable, directly or indirectly, for any damage or loss caused or alleged to be caused by or in connection with use of or reliance on any such content, products, or services available on or through such sites.

Privacy Policy

The Site provides a Privacy Policy, which makes up part of these Terms of Use. Any personally identifying information collected from you through the Site is subject to the Privacy Policy.

Changes to Service

NPR has the right to change, refuse, suspend, or terminate service, and to change or discontinue any aspect or feature of the Site, at any time without notice in its sole discretion.

Passwords

To use the Site, you must register and establish a password. You are solely responsible for all activities that occur using your registration and/or password. You must maintain the confidentiality of your password, and you agree to immediately notify NPR of any unauthorized use of your account and/or password.

The Discussion Forums

This Site may provide you with access to Discussion Forums for posting and receiving messages ("Messages"). The following rules apply to the Discussion Forums:

1. You may not post, upload, or transmit any Messages or materials anonymously or under a false screen name.
2. While we do not seek to limit expression of ideas, certain materials and language will not be tolerated. You may not post, upload, or transmit any Messages that are or link to material that is libelous, defamatory, false, obscene, indecent, lewd, pornographic, violent, abusive, threatening, harassing, discriminatory, in violation of the law, or that constitutes hate speech.

3. You may post, upload, or transmit only materials for which you have the copyright or other permission to distribute electronically. You may not violate, plagiarize, or infringe on the rights of third parties, including copyright, trademark, trade secret, privacy, personal, publicity, moral, or proprietary rights. You promise and represent that any posted, uploaded, included, or transmitted materials will be owned by you or in the public domain.
4. The Site can only be used for noncommercial purposes. You cannot distribute or otherwise publish any material containing any solicitation of funds, advertising, or solicitation for goods and services.
5. You may not post, upload, or transmit any software or other material that contains a virus or other harmful code or device. You may not use the Messages to distribute chain letters, mass mailings or “spam” or to gather e-mail addresses for the purpose of sending “spam” to other users of the Site.
6. By posting, uploading, or transmitting any Messages on or through the Site, you grant NPR a nonexclusive, perpetual, royalty-free, worldwide license to use, copy, archive, sublicense, modify, transmit, publicly perform, and display in all media, whether or not now known, any material posted by you in Messages. You acknowledge that the contents of Messages will not be subject to the privacy protections generally afforded your personally identifying information under our Privacy Policy.
7. Persons under the age of eighteen (18) may not register to use the Site.
8. You are solely responsible for any content posted, uploaded, or transmitted using your account. NPR does not and cannot review every Message posted by you and is not responsible for any materials posted by others on the Site. However, NPR has the right (but not the obligation) to delete, edit, or move any material that it deems, in its sole discretion, to be in violation of the Terms of Use or which it otherwise, in its sole discretion, considers to be objectionable.
9. NPR is not responsible or liable for any materials posted, uploaded, or transmitted in Messages. NPR cannot verify the accuracy of statements that users include in Messages, and does not guarantee that any material has been posted, uploaded, or transmitted with the permission of the copyright or proprietary owner or is otherwise in compliance with the Terms of Use.
10. By using the Discussion Forums, you agree to abide by these rules. You acknowledge that NPR has the right to delete, edit, or move Messages or other material that it deems, in its sole discretion, to be in violation of these Terms of Use, or which it otherwise, in its sole discretion, considers to be objectionable. You further acknowledge that NPR has the right to limit or terminate access to the Discussion Forums for any reason, including violation of these Terms of Use.

Representations; Indemnity

You represent and warrant that (a) any material you post, upload, or transmit through the Discussion Forums or the Site does not and will not violate the Terms of Use, and (b) your use of the Site complies with these Terms of Use. You agree that you will indemnify and hold harmless NPR and its directors, officers, employees, members, and licensees from any and all claims, liabilities, costs, or expenses, including reasonable attorneys’ fees, arising from (1) your breach of any of the above representations and warranties, (2) your use of the Site, (3) the materials you have posted, uploaded, or transmitted through the Discussion Forums or the Site, or (4) NPR’s publication, distribution, or use of such materials.
